Dear parents of the children attending Waldschule!

In an extensive process, the children, the teachers and the team of the open all-day school have scrutinised the school rules. We have reduced and condensed the existing comprehensive set of rules. These are compiled in the attached flyer together with our school motto and the school's mission statement.

We would like to ask you as parents to discuss these rules, which we have agreed for a successful interaction and co-operation and which apply both to the morning lessons and afternoon hours, with your child and sign them. You can keep the flyer as a reminder. Please have your child return the bottom section to the class teacher.

We also agreed on a number of measures in the event of non-compliance with the rules. These are as follows:

If a rule is not adhered to, the following consequences can be used:

- apologising (by letter, by making amends)
- embellishing the school (de-dusting flowers, de-dusting art installations etc.)
- helping the cook Ms Reich during afternoon hours
- inform the parents in writing
- copying the respective rule and explaining it based on a template (at home and/or at school)
- checking the order of the books in the library following instruction.

We hope that these educational measures enable a respectful interaction at our school. We count on your support.

Best regards

M. Pössinger (headmistress)

We have discussed the brochure on the mission statement and the school rules with our child and have taken note of the contents.
